The Society is exempt from registering under the principles of the Data Protection Act. The Society maintains a computer database of contact information and subscription payments for the purpose of membership administration and communication. This data is not made available to any third parties and is only available to the Society's officers in the execution of their duties. The Society's officers will use their best endeavours to keep this data safe from malware and possible copying by external sources. If members object to this, please contact the Membership Secretary.

In order to keep costs, and therefore subscriptions, to a minimum, email will be used for all communication wherever possible, so please ensure you supply your email address if you have one. This does not apply to Journals, a quality printed copy of which is sent by post three times annually.
